SUMMARY

After spending 9 years as a researcher and earning my PhD in geo-sciences, I shifted gears to focus on front-end development, a field I've always been passionate about. Leveraging my problem-solving skills and knack for self-learning from my research background, I quickly picked up skills like JavaScript, TypeScript, HTML, CSS, and React in the realm of front-end development. I'm always eager to learn and thrive in collaborative team settings.
